

Question Media Group (QMG)

Summary

We take the core message/values of a brand/organisation and carry them across to their audience. How? By using our knowledge and creative expertise to make them look, feel, and sound superior.

We understand brands have diverse needs and that they don't want to go round the houses for their media solutions. Fortunately, QMG operates as one big home and we believe in keeping it in the family. Whether it's a publishing solution, design, copywriting or content creation, our fully integrated agency can do it all in-house.

Our Work

TV

- Associate Producers; How Hip Hop Changed The World for Channel 4.

Radio

- Producers; Usher The Ultimate Entertainer for BBC Radio 1.
- Executive Producers; Shuga for MTV/ UNICEF

The Arts and Education

- QMG wrote the curriculum for the National Theatre in London, based on the phenomenal FELA production. QMG also delivered the workshops based on the curriculum to a number of national and international schools/colleges.

Campaigns

- Editorial consultants; The 'Return of the Clyde' for PUMA
- Editorial consultants; Midnight Madness for Nike
- Consultants; Shuga 'Rising Stars' for UNICEF/MTV

Past credits

- Authors for Jay-Z MySpace special
- Consultants for Hugo Urban Rules TV/ online
- Publishers for HRH Prince Charles' UMF supplement
- Creative consultants for Star Reads for The National Literacy Trust.
- Producers for An afternoon with Al Green for The Arts Council UK

People say good things about us!

'They transfer your goals into outputs'

Cathy Phiri

MTV Networks International

'Question Media are professional and make our artists feel at ease'

Lisa Lindhal

PUMA International Entertainment

'They are inspiring and genuine individuals'

Victor Redwood-Sawyers

Arts Council England